Montana State Wood Show

Welcome to the second carving, turning, burning and scrolling wood show hosted by the Montana State Woodcarvers . As you browse through this brochure you will notice some differences from other show brochures. One thing you'll notice is far fewer and broader divisions. But, the biggest difference is a change in philosophy, one focused more on critique and comment than competition. The goal is to help you become better at what you do, and to encourage more people to get involved. As the show progresses from year to year, we hope to refine this process. Your feedback is welcome.

General Information

Used Tool/Carving Table

There will be a table(s) available for you to sell tools you either don't need or don't use, or carvings you desire to sell. 20% of proceeds will go to the State to help offset costs of the show. The table will be staffed during the entire show so you don't have to be present.

Raffle Donations

A raffle will be held Sunday afternoon. Tickets will be available for sale during the show and all proceeds will go to offset costs. Anyone wishing to donate a carving or other item is encouraged to do so during check-in.

Show Rules

1. A participant may enter as many items as they choose. All items should have been completed within the last 3 years.
2. No item shall be entered which has been previously entered in the Missoula show (except "display only" items).
3. Items shall be entered in the name or names of all whom worked on the piece.
4. All entries must be at the same skill level unless they are of different types. Example: an advanced level carver must enter all carvings in the advanced level. However, that same carver may enter a wood turning in novice if they meet that definition of skill level.
5. The show chair may make changes in division, skill level, or category when deemed appropriate or when requested by a judge.
6. An entry which has techniques that encompass more than one division or category definition shall be entered in the one which is most dominant. Example: a turned bowl is also chip carved and could be entered either in chip carving or turnings. If the chip carving is the major component and the turning merely the vehicle to display it, then it should be entered in chip carving. However, if the chip carving is more an enhancement to the turning, such as a decorative ring, then it should be entered in woodturnings.
7. Seminar or class pieces may be entered at any level, but must be noted on the entry form. These entries will be judged, but are not eligible for Best of Division or higher awards.
8. The Montana State Carvers, its officers and members, are not responsible for any loss or damages from any causes at or during the show or set-up or takedown.
9. Entrants, at their discretion, may offer any entered item belonging to them for sale. They are solely responsible for such sale and collection of amounts due. Any item sold must remain on display until the show closes.

Skill Levels

Youth - age 14 or under, all entries are included in one group

Novice - beginning artists just developing their skills. Anyone earning a Best of Division or higher award should enter at a higher skill level

Intermediate - artists who have developed their skills beyond basics. This is a good entry level for carvers who have been carving for awhile, but have never entered a show. Artists who have Best of Division or higher awards at this level should enter at the next highest skill level.

Advanced - work at this level shows a high level of skill. Usually seen is more originality, difficulty, and excellence of workmanship. Artists who have earned Best of Division or higher awards at this level should compete as expert.

Expert - this is the highest skill level for those who have mastered the techniques of their field. Work here reflects overall excellence and artistic interpretation usually attained by years of application.

Judging Criteria

Skill - demonstrated by clean cuts, proper and well fitting joints, solid mounts, etc.

Finish - demonstrated by clean surfaces, and good use of paint or other finishes.

Presentation - demonstrated by the overall appearance and interpretation of the subject. Includes accurate proportions, appropriate habitat, use of texture and color, and effective use of wood qualities.

Each entry will have a written judge's evaluation attached and each participant is encouraged to visit with the appropriate judge for critique and encouragement.

Competition Prizes

Ribbons will be awarded which reflect, in the judge's opinion, the level of accomplishment of the piece being judged. Each piece will be judged on its own merits, and not in competition with other entries in the same category. The exceptions are Best of Division, Best of Class, and Best of Show awards. These will be awarded based on competition with other pieces.

Blue Ribbon- Excellent This award reflects a piece which meets or exceeds, in all areas, what the judge expects from an entry at that level. This is not perfection, but close. Any flaws or areas needing improvement are barely noticeable.

Red Ribbon-Very Good This award reflects a piece which meets or exceeds most of what a judge expects from an entry at that level. These pieces will have some minor areas needing improvement, or perhaps a more glaring issue.

White Ribbon-Good This award reflects a piece which is basically sound, but has some significant or highly visible areas needing improvement.

No Ribbon This means the piece has several significant areas needing improvement. Pay particular attention to the judge's comments, and if possible visit with the judge.

Best of Division This is the first award which reflects competition. It is awarded by the judge for the best piece in each division. The judge is not obligated to award a ribbon for each division if in their opinion there is no entry deserving or if the number of entries are too few. The judge may also award a Best of Division for the best Realistic, Suggestive, and Stylized in the Division if it so warrants.

Best of Class This is awarded to the piece judged best overall in each class, by type. It is selected from all the Best of Division awards in each class in that type.

Best of Type From the Best of Class winners, one will be chosen as Best of each Type.

Other Awards From time to time other special awards may be available, including some cash awards. These will vary from show to show.

Note about Judging The true value of judging is not the ribbon attained, but the communication with the judges. All entrants are encouraged to visit with one of more of the judges. Ask specific questions about your entry and listen to the response. We hope to make this a learning experience for all. The decisions of the Judges are final.

Entry Descriptions and Definitions

Realistic Entries in this category will show great detail, will be accurate anatomically, and will be fully painted. Exceptions may be allowed for habitat, bases, etc., which are not an integral part of the piece. An example would be a duck with feathers carved, burned, textured and painted accurately. (A flat bottomed duck, goose, etc. that otherwise meets the definition of realistic shall be entered in this category).
*Carvings showing realistic detail, but left unpainted, should be entered in the stylized category (example, human bust).

Suggestive Entries in this category will show enough detail to easily identify the subject. Painting should be accurate, but can be less detailed. Not every part needs to be painted. An example would be a duck, decoy style, with flat bottom, no feathers definition, and block style painting.

Stylized Entries in this category should show enough definition or detail to identify the subject. Great liberty can be used in finish, in proportion, etc. Paint may be used, but is not required. An example would be a duck partially carved from drift wood, left in natural finish.

Use of non-wood or non-carved materials Glass eyes, wire, natural branches, brass, leather, etc. may all be used in minimal amounts without penalty, unless a judge feels such use overpowers or otherwise detracts from the piece.

Entry Types-

Carving Entries in this category reflect all or mostly all carved surfaces, may be painted or natural finish, and may be artistic or practical

Turnings Entries in this category are designed on a lathe, and may include some carving or burning as enhancements.

Scroll Saw Entries in this category are created using a scroll saw and include intarsia, fretwork, etc. They may include limited amounts of carving or turning techniques.

Pyrography Entries in this category use woodburning as the principal technique. It may be applied to carvings, flat work, or turnings, but is still the main area of emphasis.

Stone, Bone(antler) and Metal Entries in this category can be carved, sculpted, welded or whatever the artist chooses. This category is for display only and will not be juried.
